SUBMISSION DEADLINE: midnight on Friday, September 14, 2018

OBJECTIVES

The purpose of the AIA Chicago Firm Award is to recognize:

- outstanding achievements by a firm;
- excellence in the body of work produced by a firm over the last ten years;
- the contribution made by a firm to the advancement of the architectural profession in the areas of design, research, planning, technology, and architectural practice;
- distinctive characteristics or personality of a firm and its operations.

**This award is given for the collective achievements of an organization, rather than for the individual contributions of firm principals.****

ELIGIBILITY

Membership in AIA Chicago is required. Successor firms may be considered if the collective body of work presented is that of most of the remaining principals. While the jury will examine the entire history of the firm, close attention will be given to the work of the past ten (10) years. Past award-winning firms are eligible to reapply after 10 years.

JUDGING

AIA Chicago will convene a local jury to review the submissions. The winner will be notified as soon as possible after the deliberations. The winner may be asked for additional materials to be used in publicizing the award in Chicago Architect, in the architecture media, and on the Chapter's Web site.

PRESENTATION OF AWARDS

The Firm Award will be presented at AIA Chicago's 2018 Annual Meeting and Holiday Party, December 5, at the Chicago Cultural Center. AIA Chicago requests that the winner refrain from announcing this award publicly until AIA Chicago announces the news in tandem with the notice of the upcoming Holiday Party and Annual Meeting. AIA Chicago will prepare and distribute a press release about the winning firm.
