Professional Excellence Awards

Dubin Family Young Architect Award

In 2003, the Young Architect Award was renamed the Dubin Family Young Architect Award. Thanks to the generosity of the late M. David Dubin, FAIA, his family and friends, this award has been endowed with a cash prize which is administered by the AIA Chicago Foundation. Entries will be judged by the Foundation.

Below is important information regarding the preparation of your submission. Failure to comply with the guidelines may result in disqualification of the submission. Please read all the information carefully.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: 5:00 pm on Thursday, September 3, 2015

If you have any questions regarding the preparation of your submission, contact Allison Freedland, program manager at AIA Chicago, (312) 376-2725 or afreedland@aiachicago.org.

OBJECTIVES

The purpose of the AIA Chicago Dubin Family Young Architect Award is to recognize excellence in ability and exceptional contributions by architects between the ages of twenty-five (25) and thirty-nine (39). The award may be given for exceptional work in a specific area of architectural practice or for general excellence in a wide range of architectural activities. The award is intended to recognize accomplishment in areas including design, management, technology, and professional service.

ELIGIBILITY

Nominees must be between the ages of twenty-five (25) and thirty-nine (39), licensed to practice architecture in the United States, actively practicing in the Chicago metropolitan area, and a member of The American Institute of Architects. Nominations may be made by any AIA Chicago member, and individuals may nominate themselves.

JUDGING

The AIA Chicago Foundation, which sponsors this award, will review the nominations on September 18, 2015. The winner will be notified as soon as possible. Additional materials may be requested from the winner to be used in publicizing the award in Chicago Architect, in the architecture media, and for the Chapter's website.

PRESENTATION OF AWARDS

The Professional Excellence Awards will be presented in early December 2015 at the chapter's Annual Meeting and Holiday Party.

SUBMISSION CONTENT AND INSTRUCTIONS

Nomination and recognition is based upon notable contributions to the advancement of the profession of architecture in any one of a number of areas, including:

- design
- science of construction
- research
- urban design
- architectural practice/management
- education
- professional service

The submission should clearly demonstrate the contribution of the nominee within a particular area with the following documentation:

Digest of achievements: The purpose of the digest is to summarize briefly and clearly the nominee's accomplishments in particular areas, highlighting the nominee's most outstanding achievements. The digest should not be in the form of a biographical sketch or description of positions held. It should include:

- List of significant projects; description of the qualities of the projects that are considered notable;
- List of awards, honors, and recognition received for work;
- Books, articles, or other publications written by or about the nominee in connection with areas of specialization;
- Educational positions held;
- Offices or committee roles in architectural or civic organizations, or voluntary governmental positions held by the nominee.

Resume or CV

Letters of Reference: at least two letters from AIA Chicago members should be included or mailed directly to AIA Chicago by September 3, 2015. The letters should summarize the notable achievements of the nominee. Up to two additional letters, not necessarily from architects, may also be included or mailed to AIA Chicago.

Project Information: submit at least six and no more than ten projects. For each project, drawings, photographs, articles, proposals, and other supporting materials may be included, along with the following data:

- Project Name
- Location
- Completion Year
- Owner/Client Name
- Architect of Record
- Associate Architect (if applicable)
- Photographer (if applicable)
- Project Statement: a statement of no more than 100 words which should identify the project's function and program; the design problems faced by the design firm and the solution of those problems; and your role and responsibilities in the design and construction of the project.
- Statement from the nominee (copy below and input into submission):

I affirm that this entry meets the requirements as stated in the Call for Entries. I verify that the entry is entirely the work of those listed in this form.

Signature of nominee Date: _____

Print name: _____

- Statement from the designer in charge or a firm principal as follows (copy below and input into submission):

All information should be considered final and complete; it may be used for publication by AIA Chicago. This submission must be approved by the designer in charge or a firm principal in order to qualify for the awards competition.

I agree with the above project information.

Signature of designer in charge or firm principal Date: _____

Print name: _____

SUBMISSION FORMAT

- Compile all of the above requirements into one file and submit digitally as a PDF to this link: Young Architect Award Entries.
- Each project submission must be a single file combining all the separate pages of statement, descriptions and project portfolio into ONE single PDF document. The overall PDF project submission file size cannot exceed 30MB.
- Use the following naming convention: YoungArchitectAward_[yourname].pdf
